Summary Of Rule Changes

Reports on the rule changes that have been under discussion in the last three Student Council meetings are as follows:

Discussion of the rule change suggestion that smoking be allowed in public places was reopened. It was decided that students may smoke in public places only outside the city limits of Milledgeville, in their rooms, in the dormitories, recreation halls, and while riding in cars; they may smoke in the kitchens provided the dormitory votes to do so. Student Council stated that dates smoking in the parlors was in violation of the insurance policy and, therefore, could not be allowed.

The motion that students be permitted to attend the drive-in theater on regular weekend riding nights is to be on probation for one quarter if passed by the student body and the Student-Faculty Relations committee.

It was decided to let the present regulation about riding with dates on dance nights stand as it is. Since students have parental permission to ride only until 11 o'clock, Student Council also felt that the dances would be more successful if the girls did not leave early to ride.

Student Council voted to reword the swimming rule to read: mixed groups of four or more, upon the approval of the Dean of Women, and arranged for during office hours, may swim and picnic in places approved by the college.

The decision concerning dancing on Sunday nights has been referred to a joint meeting of the Board of House Presidents and housemothers for discussion. If approved, it will be voted on by each dormitory.

A motion was made and passed to accept the rule change suggestion asking that two or more students, with or without dates be allowed to go to the downtown restaurants and drugstores on Friday and Sunday nights during regular dating hours.

Alpha Psi Initiates Six Neophytes

Six students have been formally initiated into Alpha Phi Omega fraternity. New members include Peggy Watson, Ann Johnson, Eunice Knight, Betty Herring, Fran Gore, and Caroline Griffith. Jack Gore was made an honorary member and named Alpha Psi Omega sponsor for the coming year at the formal initiation Wednesday.

Tonight Dr. Edna West will be speaker for the fraternity banquet and will present interesting highlights of backstage, GSCW.

Alpha Psi Omega Neophytes must meet certain requirements before being accepted for membership. They must have 50 points, these being acquired by performing in a major play production, and working on the various crews, (costume, and make-up, props and stage, sound, light, and publicity).

On Tuesday morning the six pledges, dressed as Shakespearean characters, presented Shakespeare's advice to the players. Peggy Watson represented Lady MacBeth, Ann Johnson, Cleopatra; Eunice Knight, Ophelia; Betty Herring, Sir Toby Belch; Fran Gore, King Lear; and Caroline Griffith, Malvolio.

Miss Rogers Resigns Presbyterian Post For GSCW Position

The resignation of Miss Isabel Rogers as Student-Youth director for the First Presbyterian Church was announced to the congregation last Sunday.

Miss Rogers has accepted the position of Director of Religious Activities at Georgia State College for Women, and begins her new duties in September when her resignation from her present post becomes effective.

Pierce, Jackson, Turner Elected

Elections for class officers for the coming year were last Friday. The run-off election was held on Monday.

Officers elected for the rising Senior Class are: President, Jeanne Pierce; Vice-president, Fannie Laura Harrell; Secretary, Gloria Brooks; Treasurer, Betty Shuman; Representative to Student Council, Joan Mendel; Representative to Judiciary, Betty Camp; Representative to Honor Council, Lucigene Davis.

Junior Class officers are: President, Sunny Jackson; Vice-president, Peggy Jo Mitchell; Secretary, Floy Black; Treasurer, Bonnye Greene; Representative to Student Council, Mary Virginia Blackman; Representative to Judiciary, Madge McLanahan; Representative to Honor Council, Phyllis Cardwell.

The coming Sophomore Class officers are: President, Erin Turner; Vice-president, Jeanne Brannan; Winn Robinson; Treasurer, Jean Culbreth; Representative to Student Council, "Tick" Berenthien; Representative to Judiciary, Louise Powell; Representative to Honor Council, Betty Hancock.

Lyndall Ulm is President of the Town Girls; Julia Alford the Vice-president; Faith Hammock won Secretary Thulia Lindsley, Treasurer; Dennise Cox, Representative to Student Council; Virginia Veal, Representative to Judiciary; Polly Farr, Representative to Honor Council.

Dr. Bailey Receives 1952 Herty Medal

The 1952 Herty Medal will be awarded to Dr. Alton Edward Bailey on May 3 during the annual Herty Day program. Dr. Bailey, who is research director for the Humbo Company, Memphis, Tennessee, has done research work in the fields of edible oil, fat products and processing. His record in foods research has been an impressive one.

From 1927 to 1941, Dr. Bailey was a research chemist for Cudahy Packing Company. The years from 1941 to 1946 saw him in the position of chemical technologist with the Southern Regional Research Laboratory of the U. S. Department of Agriculture. For the next four years, Dr. Bailey worked in the capacity of Chief Process Engineer of Fats and Oil for the Girdler Corporation, Louisville, and since then he has been the director of research for the Humbo Company.

Dr. Bailey has written two books and edited a third in his field. He is also an editor of a foods series of Interscience Publishers, is a contributor and editorial advisor to Interscience Encyclopedia of Chemical Technology and has contributed many articles to other scientific and technical periodicals.

The Herty Medal awarding is sponsored by the GSCW Chemistry Club. Pat Schwall, the club president, will give a short biographical sketch of Dr. Herty's life in the evening program. The Georgia Section of the American Chemical Society selects a chemist who has done outstanding work to receive this medal which is a memorial to Dr. Charles Herty, a noted Georgia chemist, who was, incidentally, born on what is now the GSCW campus.

The Herty Day program will include visiting chemists from the southeast. An afternoon tea at three o'clock in the old Executive Mansion will be given for these chemists followed by supper on the campus. A formal evening program will be held at seven o'clock during which the Herty Medal will be awarded to Dr. Bailey by Dr. W. J. Frierson, chairman of the Georgia Section of the American Chemical Society.

Georgia State College for Women

Vol. 29, No. 11.

EDITOR RALPH MCGILL of the Atlanta Constitution is shown accepting a plaque being presented by GSCW President Guy Wells at ceremonies here last week. The award was given to the noted Southern editor by GSCW for "distinguished service to Georgia" and for his contributions in journalism and international relations. First College Day Defies Elements

BY PAT COLLINS

The First Annual Observance of College Day was held at GSCW on April 24. The rain cut the attendance, but Russell Auditorium was almost filled to capacity to hear the program which featured Mr. Ralph McGill. The editor of the Atlanta Constitution was presented the first Distinguished Service Award given by GSCW. Mr. McGill delivered the morning address in which he urged that we prepare for an atomic era.

Miss Laura Berrien of Washington, D. C., was made an honorary member of Phoenix. She finished at GSCW in 1896 as a member of the third graduating class of the institution. Miss Berrien is an internationally known lawyer and has led a long active fight for women's emancipation. Two members of the present GSCW faculty, Dr. Sara Nelson, '28 and Dr. Helen Greene, '28 were made life-time, honorary members of Phoenix.

The Chairman of the Board of Regents, Harmon Caldwell also spoke during the morning program, and Georgia Press Association President Hugh McWhorter introduced Mr. McGill. Dean Donald H. McMahon presented the honor students, introducing 19 members of Phi Sigma and paying special tribute to the 13 new members of the GSCW chapter of Phoenix, the highest collegiate scholastic fraternity.

During the afternoon program Miss Sara Bethel presented the dormitory parent attendance prize which for the 2nd consecutive year went to the town girl's with an average of 48 per cent. Bell Hall took second place with 36 per cent attendance and Sanford Hall "showed" with 33 per cent. Recognition of the various campus leaders and members of Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities followed this presentation.

Immediately following the recognition service the pageant, "Life at GSCW", written and produced by the Distributive Education Department and directed by Dr. Edna West was presented. This pageant presented a bird's-eye view of all the major events on the school calendar.

Open House in all the academic departments and a tea at the mansion completed the day's schedule.

Kitty Marie Smith Wins Psychology Scholarship At Vandy

Miss Kitty Marie Smith was recently advised that she has been awarded a scholarship at Vanderbilt University for the study of Psychology.

Kitty Marie is an active participant in college life. She is a member of the Modern Dance Club and has been elected to Phoenix.

Brains and beauty are nicely combined as is evidenced by the fact that Kitty Marie has also been chosen as a representative in the "Max Factor Girl Beauty" contest.

Pi Omega Pi Chapter Installs First Officers

The Gamma Nu Chapter of Pi Omega Pi national honorary business education fraternity, was installed at GSCW on March 31. Honorary and active members include: Emma Jones, president; Fannie Laura Harrell, Vice-President; Ann Owens, recording secretary; Eleanor McLendon, corresponding secretary; Sue Ellen Holliman, historian; Ann Baird, treasurer; Eloise Adams, LaRue Gay, Maureen Miller, Wilma Tom Odom, Corinne Glover, Peggy Sullivan, Miss Jane F. White, sponsor; Dr. Donald C. Fuller, and Miss Patricia Ewing.

Mr. George Wagoner of the University of Tennessee, who is Pi Omega Pi national President, came down to preside over the initiation ceremony, held at the Alumnae Guest House.

The purpose of Pi Omega Pi is to further business education and to acquaint its members with leading persons and organizations in the field. Projects undertaken by the group thus far have included sponsoring a Future Business Leaders of America State meeting in Milledgeville, publishing an annual "Tips to Teachers" booklet which includes motivation ideas, visiting business-education departments in nearby high schools, and attending state professional meetings, such as GBEA.

The Gamma Nu Chapter of Pi Omega Pi is the eighty-fifth chapter in the nation; the third chapter to be organized at a woman's college, and the first chapter to be organized in Georgia.

and chemistry professor at Agnes Scott. Dr. Bailey will give a non-technical address. After the evening program coffee will be served in the alumnae recreational hall.

GSC Will Again Extend Hospitality

GSCW will again welcome several thousand visitors to her campus for a series of conferences and meets. The events on schedule for the month of May are the annual planning conference of the Georgia Education Association, the Georgia Speech Association Convention, and the State Band Festival.

Approximately 250 delegates are expected to attend the GEA and Speech Association conferences, both of which will be held on May 2 and 3.

The Education Association has chosen GSCW as the site for its group meeting for the fourth time. This conference is under the direction of Mr. J. Harold Saxon.

The Georgia Speech Association, headed this year by Dr. Edna West, is an affiliated organization of the GEA.

Representatives from all of the congressional districts of the state will be on hand to make plans for the fall meetings to be held in conjunction with all of the GEA district meetings.

An estimated 3,500 young musicians are expected to attend the annual Band Festival to be held here May 6 to 9. Mr. Max Noah, head of the Music Department, is in charge of local arrangements.

Dr. Keeler Named To Genetics Board

Dr. Clyde Keeler, professor of biology, was recently elected to the Advisory Council of the American Genetic Association, nationwide scientific society with headquarters in Washington, D. C.

Dr. Keeler has also received recently a $100 award from the Carolina Biological Supply Company.

Campus Controversies

When Senator Joseph McCarthy turned up to speak on several eastern campuses recently, both he and some of the students were in for a few surprises.

At Smith College, Massachusetts, the girls booed the Senator as he attacked UN delegate Philip Jessup, Secretary of State Dean Acheson, and President Truman. Six of the girls walked out.

During a question period he was asked if he thought college professors should take loyalty oaths.

"Senators have to take it," he replied. "And I worked hard to take mine."

But the real strife began when the Senator arrived at Princeton University, although he was but indirectly implicated in what followed. Here is what happened:

Five sophomores at Princeton decided to attend McCarthy's speech, given at a meeting of the local county Republicans. Apparently they showed a certain lack of reverence for the Senator, as evidenced by some of their questions.

One of the sophomores asked McCarthy if he would repeat his Communist charges against Jessup from the immunity-free podium. At this, several ladies told the students they were "intellectually twisted."

Later in the evening two of the students made a skeptical remark about the senator's virtues. "Some neighboring listeners," reported the Daily Princetonian, "hearing the remark, demanded that the two Princetonians be ejected from the meeting. Others proclaimed, 'Let the Commies talk, let the Commies talk.'"

"At this stage," continued the Princetonian, "a little man in a blue suit appeared and declared that he heartily wished that the two Princetonians be sent to Korea and be brought back in a basket. This suggestion met with no comment from nearby spectators."

This was about all that happened, except that students wrote in a flurry of letters to the Princetonian, most of them condemning the Senator, a few of them favorable to him.

A freshman wrote in that he was "sick and tired

Radical Conservatism

"Be not the first by whom the new are tried, nor yet the last to lay the old aside." This bit of advice given by Alexander Pope holds a tremendous amount of meaning for all of us at this particular time. Why? Because we are living in a world in which nothing is constant but change.

In November, the nation will change presidents and possibly its political administration. The South is changing; and will continue to change. It is increasing in industry and thus attracting thousands of people from other parts of the United States, people who will bring new ideas with them. On our campus, the Student Council is in the midst of rule change discussions, and we have just elected new officers in all the major and minor organizations.

We must not be afraid of changes, but at the same time, we need to give careful consideration to just what changes should be made. Too often at Student Council meetings or at retreats we hear "we ought not to do that . . . we ought not to allow that privilege because no other college does," or "we ought to have this new rule because other colleges do."

We ought to have rules that are right for US and policies that are right for OUR campus regardless of what other colleges do or believe.

Many times we obey or disobey rules depending on what "our crowd" obeys and disobeys with no personal convictions about what is right or wrong for us as individuals and as members of the GSCW campus.

How often do we sit in classes and swallow whole whatever the teacher tells us merely because he or she is the teacher, asking no questions and making no attempts to understand what he is saying? On the other hand, how often do we reject completely the facts, ideas, and opinions presented by a particular teacher for whom we have a personal dislike?

If a college education is to have a meaning or a purpose in helping us to make a living or to make a life, we must neither swallow nor reject the myriad of new facts and ideas we receive while we are in college. We must digest them.

An Englishman, Pope, told us what to do, and an American, Walt Whitman has told us how to do it. . . "you shall listen to all sides and filter them from yourself."

of hearing one of our most courageous and honest Americans (the Senator) slandered by such terms as 'bigot', 'character assassin', 'neurotic', and 'pathological'."

This freshman was roundly scored by the Princetonian, which declared, "In our opinion, McCarthyism and its effects are as dangerous a threat to the security of this country as any move by the Soviet Union or its 'satellites'."

Commented "The Nation" in a recent article: "Princeton has been called as politically pure as Vermont. If Senator McCarthy learns of recent developments, Princeton's reputation may change. After all, one of Princeton's famous alumni is Norman Brown, and as McCarthy will tell, a Socialist is only a Communist marching at half-time."

Two new developments on the question of race prejudice took place on southern campuses last week.

At the University of Tennessee graduate schools were opened to Negro students who can't find equal facilities elsewhere in the state.

This new policy is in line with the recommen-

They Went to College and Then . . .

A book crammed full of statistics about college graduates has just been published. It's called, "They Went to College: The College Graduate in America Today," and was compiled by Ernest Havemann and Patricia Salter West.

Probably the biggest point made in the book is one which just about everyone has known all along, although it is nice to have it well documented. That point is: College students are better off, materially, than those who do not go to college. This, despite the fact that about 70 per cent of college graduates worked at least a part of their way through school.

The marital statistics go like this: Most graduates get married, and most of them stay married. The men are particularly fortunate in this regard. Only six per cent of them are bachelors, while 31 per cent of the ex-coeds are spinsters.

Incidentally, the more money made by married graduates, the more children they have. This is directly contrary to the trend in the general population.

As for political opinions, college graduates are generally anti-New Deal, but more internationalist than isolationist. They are pretty well divided on matters of racial intolerance.

However, this trend stands out as significant: The younger graduates tend to be more pro-New Deal, more internationalist and more tolerant. What will happen to these opinions as graduates grow older, cannot be predicted as yet.

Almost four out of 10 college graduates think of themselves as Republicans, between two and three as Democrats and between three and four as independent voters.

But the book shows that the party labels of the college graduates almost always follow the voting predispositions of their parents. Only one out of 10 has actually joined the opposite party of his parents. Interestingly enough, more Democratic fathers have lost sons or daughters to the Republicans than vice versa.

In every field, grade-A students do better financially in later life than do those who made lower grades. But grades play a smaller part in business success than in any other field. Moreover, the most prominent men on campus do not later make more money.

The graduates who make the most money in later life are those who went to college with family support, who did not have to work their way through college. Family-supported graduates of Harvard, Yale and Princeton are the ones who have done best of all—far ahead of the others.

ation made by the federal court in Knoxville last year. The court ruled that the University had to admit four Negro college graduates training in such fields as chemistry and law.

And at Piedmont College, Ga., the dean of the school has resigned in protest of his school accepting money from an avowed racist and anti-Semite.

Dr. A. R. Van Cleve said in his letter of resignation, "I fear fascism as much as I do communism." For more than a year now Piedmont has been getting $500 a month from the Texas Education Association.

This association is headed by George Armstrong, a cattle and oil millionaire, who has publicly expressed his feeling against Negroes and Jews.

Prizes Offered In Essay Contest

MRS. IRVING M. ENGEL, president of the National Council of Jewish Women.

The class of '53 students who have their own ideas about academic freedom will have a chance to compete next fall for $5,000 in cash prizes in a nationwide essay contest on this timely and important subject sponsored by the National Council of Jewish Women.

Any next-year senior, in any American college, is eligible. The essays, of 2,500 words maximum, are to be on the subject, "The Meaning of Academic Freedom." First prize will be $2,500; second, $1,000; and third, fourth and fifth, $500 each.

Heading the Committee of Judges will be Supreme Court Justice William O. Douglas. Other members will be Ralph Bunche, winner of the Nobel Peace Prize in 1950; Thurman W. Arnold, author and former Associate Justice of the U.S. Court of Appeals; Mrs. Douglas Horton, educator and former head of the Women's Reserve, U. S. Navy; and Abram L. Sachar, president of Brandeis University.

The contest will be open for receipt of entries September 15, 1952; will close December 31, 1952; and winners will be announced about the middle of April, 1953. It is being announced at this time so that students will have an opportunity to work on their essays during the summer if they wish. Detailed rules and instructions will be made available at the beginning of the fall term, and copies may be obtained at that time from the college administrative offices.

The purpose of the National Council of Jewish Women in conducting the contest, as explained by Mrs. Irving M. Engel, national president, is "to encourage thoughtful exploration and forthright expression on the subject of academic freedom among the students themselves."

The National Council of Jewish Women has long been committed to the preservation of the dignity of the individual and to the protection of fundamental American liberties. Reports of recent restraints on the traditionally free exchange of ideas and opinions in our colleges and universities have been received with deep concern by our organization.

"We know this is not true in all colleges," Mrs. Engel said. "But if it is true in any substantial number — if it is only partly true — we of the Council believe our democracy should take warning, and that we should do everything we can to safeguard the priceless tradition of free exchange of thought and opinion in education against any threat of repression from the outside world or from fear to 'speak up' within the classroom or lecture hall."

"We believe the survival of American freedom — in school and out — will depend on the ability of America's citizens to think for themselves and on the courage of those citizens in speaking up for the things they believe in. This has been the very core of our nation's strength from its earliest days."

Georgia Speech Association Meets Today, Tomorrow

Dr. Edna West, head of the Speech Department of GSCW, and recently elected president of the state association, will lead the fifth annual GEA Planning Conference which will be held here on May 2nd and 3rd.

The state and district officers and the affiliate officers will meet to plan together a program for the year, to make specific plans for the afternoon sessions of the fall district GEA conventions, and to plan the annual program that is a part of the GEA state convention.

Other officers of the association are Mr. Leighton Ballew, state vice-president, and Mr. James Popovich, state secretary and treasurer; University of Georgia; Miss Jane Mulkey, Washington Seminary, 2nd vice-president; Mr. Richard Maher, Emory University, 3rd vice-president.

The district officers are Mrs. Margaret Le Fevre, Mrs. Garden Village School, Savannah; Mrs. Vivian Hicks, Thomasville High School; Miss Mary Hammond, Georgia Southwestern College; Miss Maryse Dale, Andrew College; Miss Irene Arnett, LaGrange College; Miss Jane Mulkey, Miss Sara Ivey, Wesleyan; Miss Edna Jenkins, Rome Public Schools; Miss Louise Sawyer, Valdosta State College; Mr. L. H. Walker, Director, University of Georgia Off-Campus Center, Gainesville; Mr. Leighton Ballew.

Regional Director Advises Y Cabinet

Miss Rosa Lee Oakes, regional director for Y.W.C.A., visited the GSCW campus the past week. As a regional director, Miss Oakes advises and guides college Y.W.C.A.'s in ten states.

The 1952-53 Cabinet met during the week, and after Jan Blackwell's introduction, Miss Oakes spoke to the group. Giving the latest news and happenings of college Y's across the nation, Miss Oakes discussed with Cabinet plans for the coming year.

Six GSCW Girls Chosen To Enter 'Max Factor Girl' Contest

Is there a "Max Factor Girl" on campus? A girl, who, if she's very lucky, will lead an enchanted life in the future? The "Max Factor Girl" contest is sponsored by Max Factor, head of the famous Hollywood make-up studio bearing his name. Having been called upon numerous times to judge campus beauty contests, Factor has become convinced that the most beautiful girls in the world today are enrolled in America's colleges and universities. The contest represents his efforts to encourage coeds in the art of good grooming.

Six students have been chosen by a faculty committee to enter this contest because they were judged to have the "fresh, young, natural American look" which is what Factor wants to find. The girls chosen by the committee and pictured above are Anne Gatewood, Cartersville; Kitty Marie Smith, Milledgeville; Jane Horne, Americus; Louise McKnight, Milledgeville; Gay Pettit, Cartersville; Mary Cobb, Mt. Vernon. These girls are eligible, if they should win, to be rewarded with a $1000 fund for GSCW, as well as numerous other prizes, some of which are:

An all-expense-paid luxury vacation to Hollywood, for the winner and her mother or chaperone; a 17-jewel diamond and gold Benrus wrist watch; a tailored suit and topper by Rosenblum of California; a portable record player; and 25 albums of the latest recordings by Capital records, plus a professional recording audition if the winner has talent as a singer; an Evans handbag, with complete fittings, including a new Evans automatic lighter; a wardrobe of six pairs of Grace Walker shoes; a year's supply (24 pairs) of chignon nylon hosiery, including exclusive fashions for spectator, cocktail, evening, and everyday wear; a 3 piece set of Amelia Earhart luggage; a Royal portable typewriter; the Columbia Encyclopedia; a table model Emerson

Should one of the representative from our campus win, she will receive her prizes during her stay in Hollywood, where she will be crowned the "Max Factor Girl" at a special coronation which will be given national coverage by newsreel, press, radio and television.

Music News Notes

By MAUREEN MILLER

The Milledgeville College Choir presented Mendelssohn's "Elijah" Sunday night, April 27, in the First Methodist Church, Max Noah conducting.

Max Noah, head of the Music Department, has announced the major student recitals for the 1952 season. The students and dates of their respective recitals are Annette Johnson, Monday, May 5; Jean Starr, Tuesday, May 6; Laura Dell Trapnell, Monday, May 12; Betty McCorkle, Wednesday, May 22; Jo Anne Casteel, Tuesday, May 23; Betty Le Roy, Monday, May 26.

Peggy Grubbs, Blakely, will play her senior organ recital in Russell Auditorium Sunday, May 18. Julia Willingham, pupil of Walter Russell will give her junior piano program Tuesday, May 20.

Students and the public are cordially invited to attend these programs, all of which will begin at the hour of 8 O'clock in the evening.

Annette Johnson, mezzo - soprano, will sing her senior voice recital in Porter Auditorium, Monday, May 5, at the hour of 8:00 o'clock accompanied by Dr. George Beiswanger, at the piano. Virginia Drexel will assist with a group of piano selections. Annette has excelled in vocal music having studied voice with Mr. Noah, and appeared in concert and recital work on many occasions. She has sung in the College Choir for three years and served as soloist besides being a member of the Choir ensemble. Miss Johnson has also given generously of her time to church and civic groups when called on in Milledgeville and other cities.

Jean Starr, soprano, will sing her junior voice recital in Porter Auditorium Tuesday evening, May 6, at 8 O'clock. Jean has studied with Max Noah during her two years at the Georgia State College for Women after transferring from Pennsylvania in her sophomore year. She is majoring in the field of music education and will receive her degree in 1953. Jean has earned a reputation for herself through her many appearances as soloist in the College Choir, Methodist Church Choir, recitals, ensembles, and civic clubs throughout the city and state. Last year she sang the role of Mabel in the "Pirates of Penzance" and will appear as Marianne in Romberg's "New Moon", May 16.

Make your plans now to be here Friday May 16 to enjoy the lilting music, comic antics, and romantic "goings on" in "The New Moon"! Student tickets are 50¢ and will be on sale soon.

"NEW MOON" IS CAST

"The New Moon" — a delightful comic operetta — ROMANTIC too — one of Sigmond Romberg's favorite will be presented by the Milledgeville A Cappella Choir and College Theatre Friday night, May 16, in Russell Auditorium.

Jean Starr and Randall Langston have the romantic leads, as the "lovely Marianne" and "dashing Robert" respectively.

Harris Rogers (Alexander) and Annette Johnson (Julia) have the comic romantic leads with Betty Leroy (Clotilde) as the enthusiastic contender for Alexander's heart. Harold Stinson plays the diligent seeker of Marianne's hand as Captain of the "New Moon" — (Duval).

Leonard Norman, former music instructor at GSCW, portrays one of the loyal friends of Robert; and Chuck Vandiver takes the role of Besac, a boatswain of the "New Moon" and one of the husbands of Clotilde — (former husband, of course).

The roles of Ribaud ("Secret Eye of the King") who is on the trail of Robert, Monsieur Beauvoir, Marianne's father, have not yet been assigned.

"Stout Hearted Men", "Lover, Come Back to Me", "One Kiss", "Wanting You", and "Softly, in a Morning Sunrise" are the well-known and popular songs included in "The New Moon". The story is laid in exciting old New Orleans in 1990 when ladies and gentlemen were bold in love as well as intrigue and politics.

Barbara Beasley is Business Manager with Gene Tate as Co-Business Manager. Maureen Miller is in charge of publicity and Mary Byrne Stover will act as co-publicity chairman.

Plans for the Homecoming Week end are not yet complete. So far on the calendar — "The New Moon", Friday night May 16, and cokes afterwards for present and former choir members; a picnic Saturday noon; installation service (awarding of certificates and pins of merit), Saturday afternoon; and the Homecoming Banquet Saturday night (including a preview of the movies taken on the tour with "Papa" Noah's trusty camera. Later movies of previous years will be shown for those who want to stay and see them.

Memorial Volume

Given To

Business Department

A certificate in the course of stenography presented to Miss Pauline Pinkus on June 13, 1893, by this institution, then known as Georgia Normal and Industrial College, has recently been presented to the college by the alumna's daughter, Dr. Marie C. Alkon of Boston, Massachusetts.

"The certificate," says Dr. Fuller, "will be framed and placed in the Business Department here since it represents the first graduate in business from this institution, and was given on the occasion of the second graduation in the history of the college."

Dr. Alkon also sent money for the latest edition of "Who's Who in Commerce and Industry" to be donated to the school in memory of her mother, the former, Pauline Pinkus.

High Schools Hold

Tennis Matches Here

On April 21, the Sixth District tennis matches were held on this campus for the third consecutive year.

High schools competing in the matches were Dublin, Monticello, Gray, Gordon, and Wadley.

In the B division, Dublin walked away with the medals in all events, topping Monticello and Gray in girls' and boys' singles and doubles.

In class C, Gordon and Wadley split the honors — the former winning the girls' events, the latter, the boys.

The winning teams will journey to Macon, May 9 for the State Tennis Tournament.

Umpires for the district meet were Misses Chapin, Davis, and Smith. Mr. J. C. Turner, Jr., Secretary of the Sixth District, was on hand to watch the matches and present the medals to the winners.

CHAPEL SCHEDULE

Friday, May 2 — Dr. Geo. Beiswanger, speaker.

Monday, May 5 — Psych. Club program or speaker.

Friday, May 9 — No chapel — Band Festival.

Monday, May 12 — Exerpts from operetta.

Friday, May 16 — Pi Gamma Mu speaker.

Monday, May 19 — Pres. A. W. Ray, Andrew college, speaker.

GEORGIA'S PLAY DAY

Last Saturday morning the following girls left at 7:00 A.M. to represent GSCW at Georgia's G.A.F.C.W. (Georgia Athletic Federation for Women) playday: Frances Hicks, Miriam Fields, Nick Murphy, Robbie Robinson, Irene Riley, Mary Nell Smith, Lyndall Ulm, also Miss Davis and Miss Chapan.

Due to rain some of the activities were omitted, however in those which took place:

Hicks and Field placed 1st. in Table Tennis, Nick Murphy and Robbie Robinson placed second in Badminton, and Margaret Morrison, Mary Nell Smith, Irene Riley teamed with two girls from Mercer and did both racing and form swimming in which they placed third.

At lunch the executive council of G.A.F.C.W. met and discussed plans for next year's January convention which will be held here at G.S.C.W.

After lunch the divided color teams played volleyball and softball. Upon arrival each girl had received a colored ribbon which determined her team for the entire day.

Later in the afternoon Georgia entertained with various demonstrations in tumbling, creative dance, and swimming.

The day was concluded with a cokes party, and after all scores had been tallied the winners were announced. It was wonderful news to discover that G. S. C. W. tied with Agnes Scott for first place. Congratulations girls, we are proud of you!

SOFTBALL

The dormitory softball tournaments have been in progress two weeks. The games and scores are as follows:

Bell 7 — Ennis 6
Terrell 15 — Beeson 6
Bell 12 — Sanford 8

Terrell and Bell played the final game Monday afternoon. After five innings of vigorous play and a show of fine sportsmanship, Bell defeated Terrell 23-22. Congratulations Bell, on winning the dormitory tournament.

Class tournaments will begin in a few days. Everyone be sure to come out and support your class.

SWIMMING MEET

The Penguin Club is busy making plans for the school-wide swimming meet which will be held May 23rd. All classes will select representatives for the various styles and relays. Classes are urged to begin making plans and deciding who they will enter to represent them. The class managers for the swimming meet are:

Senior Class, Patsy Evans

Freshman Class, Tish Tinsley. Just a reminder to General Rec board that they are expected to attend all General Rec board meetings the first Tuesday night of each month. The following is a new rule passed at Spring Retreat. "There shall be no unexcused absences from General or Executive Rec board. For absences to be excused the person should see the President in advance. If this privilege is abused then the person will be subject to impeachment."
